HISTORY

Vignerons Michael Cooper made wine in Aragon before he and wife Rosario decided to build their own winery in Campo de Borja. Vinos del Viento's namesake comes from the strong winds that carve through the Ebro River Valley -reaching 50km per hour- known as the Cierzo wind.

Cooper is revered as a pioneer in the region, making wines from abandoned single vineyards whose vines weren't producing sufficient fruit for bulk farmers. Nurturing these vines back to health with biodynamic practices has revealed single-vineyard expressions that continue to pique neighboring farmers interests and cultivate both respect and praise in international reviewers press.

With a philosophy of combining tradition and innovation, Cooper has a prevailing mission statement: "[these wines are] unique treasures to preserve and share with the world."

VINIFICATION and MATURATION

Hand-harvested, de-stemmed and co-fermented in concrete with indigenous yeasts. Élevage on fine lees in concrete. Biodynamically vinified. Unfined, unfiltered.

VINEYARD

Sourced from numerous high elevation sites at 600m (1,968ft) all planted to Canto Rodado (stoney clay soils).

TASTING NOTES

Aromas of violets, white pepper and blueberries with some sappy notes, as well as blackberries. The palate has a very fresh, lively and fleshy core of blueberries and blackberries with good richness, depth and build into the flavorful, long finish. (James Suckling) Awarded "Best Value Red Wine of Aragon" by Beth Willard for Tim Atkins MW.

FOOD PAIRING

Carne asada tacos, Texas BBQ, grilled salmon, rotisserie chicken, charcuterie and cheese.
