HISTORY

Vigneron Michael Cooper made wine in Aragon before he and wife Rosario decided to build their own winery in Campo de Borja. Vinos del Viento's namesake comes from the strong winds that carve through the Ebro River Valley -reaching 50km per hour- known as the Cierzo wind.

Cooper is revered as a pioneer in the region, making wines from abandoned single vineyards whose vines weren't producing sufficient fruit for bulk farmers. Nurturing these vines back to health with biodynamic practices has revealed single-vineyard expressions that continue to pique neighboring farmers interests and cultivate both respect and praise in international reviewers press.

With a philosophy of combining tradition and innovation, Cooper has a prevailing mission statement: "[these wines are] unique treasures to preserve and share with the world."

VINIFICATION and MATURATION

Hand-harvested, de-stemmed and gently pressed into temperature controlled stainless steel tanks for 4 months on fine lees before bottling. Un-fined, un-filtered.

VINEYARD

Single vineyard at 600m (1,968ft) planted to chalky soils. Dry-farmed, biodynamically farmed.

TASTING NOTES

Clean, expressive with notes of waxy apple, flowers and pollen. The palate is balanced and tasty, very pleasant.
